Foreigners To Buy Land

Britain has already given a thumb's up for Bulgaria's admission to the European Union at 2007, and there is another great step forward with Bulgarian MPs from all political parties voting for the amendments in the Bulgarian Constitution in connection to land sales, bringing into compliance with the EU legislation. Foreigners who are not permanent residents of Bulgaria, will be able to purchase land after 7-year transition period.

properties in Bulgaria. The boast is that the country's Black Sea Coast is fast becoming the next Costa del Sol. And with the prospect of EU membership in just two years, many hope to be making a good profit. Article by Rosie Goldsmith, BBC News.

More Direct Flights To Varna

From May, Bulgarian Air have announced they are starting three direct flights per week on Monday, Wednesday and Friday from Gatwick direct to Varna. Other budget airlines are watching the market closely in anticipation of introducing new routes to promote this growing European holiday destination. Air Austria have also recognised the growth in traffic to Bulgaria and have launched a new daily flight from Vienna to Varna.

Balkan Holidays in Top 100

Balkan Holidays was proud to announce that they had achieved a place on the prestigious Sunday Times Virgin Atlantic Fast Track 100 league table of Britain's fastest growing private companies.

The company has seen an incredible growth in sales of beach and skiing package holidays to Bulgaria over the last few years. Furthermore, sales of package holidays to Croatia, Slovenia, Montenegro and Romania are rapidly increasing.

Balkan Holidays specialises in all these destinations and with 40 years of experience in planning and arranging holidays they have become the market leader.

Snow Hits Varna Coast - Mayor Declares State of Emergency

Work on HHB developments came to a standstill during freak weather conditions.

Early February, Bulgarian authorities declared a state of emergency for the eastern regions of the country, and life in the Black Sea city of Varna came to a standstill due to heavy snow over a three day period.

Roads in the city of 250,000 and nearby villages were closed, as was the port and international airport. Snowdrifts of up to about six feet trapped some 100 vehicles on a road west of Varna.
